Domestic Waste Collection

Krod, offers a domestic waste collection service on behalf of municipalities or their public sector institutions responsible for managing waste. All refuse that is put out on collection days is removed. The service includes a door-to-door collection services, removal of illegal dumping, street cleaning and litter picking.

To provide the service, Krod would appoint members of the local community where the service is rendered to become community contractors. To be a contractor, one need to live in the area where the service is being rendered, has a relevant drivers license, being able to read and write as well as having some leadership skills. Krod would then assist them in setting up their business and provide them with ongoing support in order for them to provide a quality service.

The service area is then normally divided into an economically viable number of households per community contractor and the areas are normally services once a week. The service provided includes the following:

All refuse is removed from each household once per week.

Garden Refuse: All garden refuse that is placed in bags or tied in bundles is collected weekly with the household refuse.

Waste Recovery

The resources we consume - water, energy air, land, trees, minerals - are finite and will not be there for future generations if do not conserve them.

Our waste and where it goes once we throw it away, is our responsibility.

We may believe waste to be a technical problem for someone else to fix but it is a cornerstone for

Preserving our planet

What we throw away comes back to us; our past will catch up with us.

Waste cycle

Krod, is piloting a materials recovery facility (MRF) in partnership with local buy-back centre's. An MRF is a facility that receives, separates and prepares recyclable materials for marketing to end-user manufacturers.

Krod's is a clean MRF which accepts recyclable materials already separated at source. We aim to divert large quantities of waste from landfill sites which are already overburdened and unhealthy.

As proof of concept is established Krod, will establish MRFs in other areas of its operations. We believe that waste is a valuable resource which can often be recycled or re used within our community rather than buried in a landfill and we encourage citizens to recycle as much of their waste stream as possible and keep contamination low.
